“ When Linda and Neal were just getting to know one another, he would stop by her place after lunch at the Senior Center and have dessert with her. She'd make sure she had cake, pie, etc. on hand. It was on one of those visits that I met Neal for the first time. (I live in western WA and was staying a few days with Linda.) I watched as they shared conversation - each listening carefully as the other talked...back and forth. They'd laugh and smile a lot - They enjoyed being "with" one another. I knew then, that this man would be an important person in her life. Knowing that he attended church - a faithful Christian - was a big PLUS! He brightened Linda's life. He made her feel things she'd never felt in her life. They went on to get married and spent three years together - years that Linda told me were the best in her life! Thank you, God, for bringing Neal into my friend's life....making her to feel worthy and beautiful again! Amen.
