“ I knew Jim my whole life. He was a prankster, always cracking jokes. He could always make me laugh. If you were friends with Jim you were always treated as family.

It's pretty tough to lose someone you're familiar with, I lost a good friend I'd known for 30 plus years. I cleaned and took him shopping for 21 years. He watched my 3 children grow up. He will be missed as Jim will be missed by his family and friends. But they live in our hearts forever.
