He attended school in the Cashmere and Ephrata School Districts. Following high school education he enlisted in the U.S. Navy and served as a Gunner's Mate on the USS Yorktown during the Korean Conflict. They resided in both Bremerton and Silverdale, WA.

Bob's (Robert) primary occupation was working at the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard as a Boiler maker. He was later transferred to Charleston, S.C. where he retired from the Charleston Naval Shipyard.

In 1973 he married Annie Mae Ackerman and resided in North Charleston, South Carolina for the last thirty years. Following Anne Carver passing in 2012, Robert spent the remaining time in Moses Lake, WA. with family and friends.

He enjoyed attending sporting events with his grandchildren, gardening, Western movies, music, and traveling. He was fondly referred to by his Grandchildren as Grasshopper and PA: Robert was also proud of his grandson Scott attending medical school in Milwaukee.
